Drilling Trip to Williston

A group of 13 students and several faculty attended a field trip to the Williston, ND area. The first few days included OSHA safety training at Williston State College/TrainND. Following the safety training, attendees had the opportunity to visit various facilities, including office locations, rig operations, frac site, drilling, production operations, a rail facility and a gas plant. The week long field trip gave students a well rounded view on the operations in the oil and gas industry. It was also great to see a few UND Petroleum Alumni working and giving the tours. The students enjoyed hearing about their experience going from the classroom into their career as petroleum engineers.

Thank you to our Industry Advisory Council for organizing the trip.
