

UND College of Engineering and Mines
ACADEMY

A. Benjamin Dove, IV

Born: May 2, 1961, Mandan, North Dakota
Education: University of North Dakota, BSME, 1983
University of Pennsylvania, MSSE, 1994

Career Experience

1984-1990 Systems Engineer, GE Aerospace (Lockheed Martin)
1990-1992 LM Mission Operations Manager
1992-1994 LM Chief Engineer, classified development project
1994-1997 LM Systems Engineering Manager, classified development program
1997-2001 LM Engineering Manager, classified development program
2001-2004 LM Program Director, classified development & support program
2004-2006 LM Program Director, US Air Force AEHF Satellite Ground System
2006-2008 Lockheed Martin Business Unit Director of Program Execution
2008-2013 LM Business Unit, VP of Performance Excellence
2014-2016 LM Business Unit, Director of Engineering Operations
2016 Retired from Lockheed Martin
2018-Present Business Consultant Leidos Corporation

Recognition & Accomplishments

GE General Managers Award 1992
LM Leadership Excellence Award 1999
National Reconnaissance Office Certificate of Recognition 2000
LM One in a Thousand Award 2001
LM Certified Program Manager
Chaired LM Program Management Council
Received numerous customer 100% Award Fees and 5.0 CPAR ratings
As a Program Manager, through customer collaboration and mission execution focus, grew contract value to >$1B

Volunteer Service/Interests

UND CEM Executive Advisory Board
Moringa Community School of Technology (Ghana)
Social Venture Network – Impact Investor
Philadelphia Alliance of Capital and Technologies
American Red Cross
Completed 3 marathons, 3 holes-in-one (to date)

